The LEADER

"South Nassau's Leading Weekly Newspaper"

How This Issue Came About

Several weeks ago the staff of THE LEADER conceived the idea of printing a special "Back To School" edition, and using as staff writers, students from our local High Schools.

Advice was asked of the school authorities, who were very receptive to the idea, feeling that the experience of writing for the local paper would be very helpful to the students.

After suggestions by the student body, and school authorities, a staff of 26 out-standing students was finally decided on. These were selected for their writing ability, and experience on the various school papers.

Assignments were made and a few days later, the complete stories began to come in. It was immediately evident that sufficient noteworthy news was available to complete not one, but two special editions of "Back To School" news, and it was decided to publish an additional "Back To School" edition the week of August 30 as well.

The students who have worked with "THE LEADER" in this special effort are as follows:

4 Yacht Club Swimming Teams In Season's Final Meet Saturday

The inter-yacht club swimming season will be brought to a close Saturday with a four-cornered meet at the Unquacoroithian Y. C. in Amityville. Besides the home club, the South Shore, Edgewater and Sea Cliff Yacht Clubs will be represented. And on Monday, September 4, the annual Labor Day meet of the South Shore Y. C., one of the big events of the year, will be conducted.

The young swimmers of the South Shore Yacht Club journeyed to Northport Saturday afternoon and defeated the Edgewater Yacht Club squad in a very close competition by a count of 66 points to 52.

During the meet the lead swung back and forth with almost every event and frequently the two teams were tied. Each had 51 points when the results of the 18th event were counted up. This was due to the fact that the Freeport girls won most of their events, while the boys had their difficulties. However, David Carver and John Gerrity, of S. Shore, came through to finish first and second in the free-style race.

Two Storefronts Wrecked By Cars In Freak Sunrise Highway Mishaps

Two West Sunrise Highway store fronts were wrecked in freak accidents that happened three and a half hours apart early Saturday.

At 2:45 o'clock Frank B. Nolan, 276 East Seaman ave., was driving east along the highway, as he neared the real estate office of Charles F. Behr & Son, 71 West Sunrise highway, his right wheel hit the coping along the mall, causing him to lose control of the wheel. The car careened, mounted the sidewalk diagonally, plunged into the real estate office and wrecked both windows and the doorway.

The police believe Nolan dozed off and was asleep when car hit the side of the mall. He was treated for lacerations of the scalp and concussion of the brain, and taken to the Meadowbrook Hospital, but not admitted.

Meadow Brook Bank Bids in $825,000 Bond Issue at 1.70

The Meadow Brook National Bank bid in an $825,000 bond issue to cover the cost of trunk lines, pumping stations and force mains for the sewer system in the southern section of the village, and the system of parking fields Monday with an interest rate of 1.70 and a premium of $1.32. The issue is divided $352,000 for trunk lines, $118,000 for force mains and $355,000 for parking fields.

Six bids were submitted and that of the local concern was the best, so far as the interest rate was concerned.

George B. Gibbins was next with 1.75 interest and $1.735 premium, followed by Lehman Bros., 1.80 and $1.603; Franklin National Bank of Franklin Square, 1.90 and $4.290; American Trust Co., 1.90 and $4.295 and Im Hapt & Co., and associates, 1.90 and $4.671.35.

Leo Fishel Resigns Post as Chairman of Sewer Commission

Leo Fishel, a member of the Freeport Sewer Commission for 25 years and its chairman for most of the time, has resigned because of illness. He has been succeeded by Theodore M. Lang, who quit the Zoning Board of Appeals to take the new post.

Mr. Fishel, a resident of Freeport, recently and resigned on the advice of his physician. The Village Board at its meeting Monday night adopted resolutions commending him for his many years of faithful service for the village. Mr. Fishel recently celebrated his 50th anniversary as a member of the bar.

Mr. Lang has had previous experience which qualifies him for the chairmanship of the Sewer Commission. He served six years as a member of the Railway Valley Sewer Commission and before that was for nine years Mayor of Clark, N. J. He also served as tax collector for that community three years. He was born in Russia.

He lives at 296 Woodcroft ave., and has been a resident of Freeport eleven years. He has had a real estate broker's license in New Jersey since 1927 and still practices there. He formerly conducted the Freeport Cold Storage plant on Woodcroft ave., but has left the business so he can devote more time to operating a fishing boat and the real estate line.

Mr. Leo Fishel is the second veteran member to be lost to the Sewer Commission in recent months. Frank H. Holland resigned sometime ago and was succeeded by Edward M. Voelcker.

Record Enrollment Is Anticipated in Schools

Parents Have Responsibility of Sending Them Back to Learning With Eagerness and Enthusiasm

COMPETENT authorities have estimated that between 33,000,000 and 35,000,000 American boys and girls will be going back to grade school, high school and college this fall.

The estimated totals include the beginners who will be embarking on careers of learning for the first time. They are expected to set something of a record in their own right, as the result of the consistent upturn in the nation's birth rate of the past several years.

These estimated totals—like so many things upon which we pause to reflect during this Mid-Point year of the fabulous 20th Century—are roughly twice what school enrollments were when the Century began.

Season Presents a Challenge

And thus, as school bells sound in the distance to summon children back to classes for the 1950-51 term, their parents, the officials charged with the responsibility for their learning, and the children themselves, are presented with an unprecedented challenge.

While the problem of the officials, with the aid of civic-minded voters, is that of providing expansion of the physical plants of our educational systems and also the teaching staffs, to take care of the constantly increasing needs, the problem of parents is somewhat more personal.

For, it is up to the parents and what they do during the few weeks remaining before the fall semesters begin, as to how well outfitted and equipped the children will be for enthusiastic resumption of their careers of learning.

One thing appears to be certain. Whereas the average child going back to school during the earlier years of this century considered his return to classes as an unhappy interruption of a glorious vacation, today most children appear to consider it fun.

In Freeport, Kindergarten, elementary and High School registrations are expected to be at an all time high. All children can be registered the opening day of school, Sept. 6. Children will be admitted to the kindergarten classes who have reached the age of five by February 1st.

There will be a general faculty meeting held in the high school auditorium on Tuesday, Sept. 5th. Dr. John W. Dodd, Supt. of Schools, announced today The following are the principals of the various Freeport Schools:

Martin M. Mansperger, High School.
Orayton Williamson, Archer St.
T. Redmond McKenna, Cleveland Ave.
J. Wesley Southard, Grove St.
Miss Helen Ross, Columbus Ave.
William Hughes, Caroline Atkinson School.

In Baldwin new pupils who have reached the age of four years and nine months can be registered at any of the public schools on Friday, Sept. 1st from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Also on Tuesday, Sept. 5th from 1 to 3 P. M., Dr. Ducker, Supt. of Schools announced.

Baldwin students requiring program changes should see Theresa Bedell, director of Guidance at the High School on Friday, Sept. 1st, or Tuesday, Sept. 5th, from 8 A. M. to 12 noon.

Baldwin High School has a new principal in Gerald Thayer who was formerly assistant principal.

FASHIONS

By BARBARA ALBERT—B.H.S. '51

With only thirteen days left until the halls of learning echo with the laughter and chatter of thousands of "Red Devils" and "Golden Waves," what's the dress this year for the back-to-school days becomes prominent in the minds and pockets of the co-eds in visiting some of the local fashion shops, particularly the Priscilla Prim Shop on North Grand ave. in Baldwin we found.

For the girls it's still covered knees, the new look isn't getting older as the years go by. Chief in this year's dress for the "Femme" are plaid-cotton plaid dresses and plaid, pleated, wool skirts. Also at the top of the list of what the well-dressed girl might wear to school are corduroy jumpers worn with either sweater or blouse. Dresses mad of corduroy, or dresses with corduroy trim are also on the hit parade.

This year the grade school set will find that their dresses are just a younger version of big sister. For the Mids-in-Between, the girl who is too old for the young sister styles and too young for teenage styles, there are dresses just suited for her, the Peti-Teens. Of course the "Sweater Girl Look" for every girl is still as popular as ever with a great choice of nylons, cashmeres and other wools to choose from.

In the sock department can be found a fine choice of the perennial wool socks and the new spun nylon.

Of course an outfit isn't complete unless there is a pocketbook in which to carry all the various "junk," as the boys put it. This year many of the pocketbooks will be made of plaid fabrics and corduroy to match the rest of mademoiselle's ensemble.

For rainy weather girls will find that new look in rain coats is plaid. Plaid fabric on the outside with a thin lining of rubber on the inside is the vogue with hoods and capes to add to that "good look" even in a downpour.

For the male at school this year things are beginning to look a little brighter in color than in the past. For high school and grade school boys alike there are sweaters to please each and every one in all colors and in many different designs. Grey flannel is the big color this year in boys' trousers to go with their sweaters and shirts.

An especially big thing this year is the idea of the look-alike clothes between the sexes. Not to be outdone by the girls with their plaids and corduroys the boys can find a selection of boys' plaid shirts and corduroy jackets in all colors and styles.

Basque shirts are also in style for those first warm days spent in school.

Socks for boys this year will be multi-colored stripes and some will be ribbed.

When the April showers come during the fall, smart boys will be in top style when wearing their rubber raincoats in either yellow, red, or black.

Public awareness of the increasing needs of our schools to take care of the greater enrollments is one of the most pressing problems of this period. Parents are urged to take an active part in studying the needs of our school systems.

Jumper Vs. Skirts
Grade School Problem

Better Fabrics Combined
With Fashion Furnish Classic Economy

Jumpers promise to vie with skirt and sweaters for first choice on the grammar school's back-to-school shopping list, this season.

Wonderfully in step with little sister's jumpers and skirts are the back-to-school fashions offered her more sophisticated high school and college sisters.

This is good news for all, mother included. Because these fashions interchange easily with sweaters, blouses, shirts and dummies to become versatile enough for extra-curricular activities as well as classroom hours.

They are available in styles flattering to all and come in easy-tending, long wearing fabrics with budget-comfortable price tags that will win Mother's practical eye the moment she sees them.

This is also an excellent way to teach her the fundamentals of quality recognition and also provide her with an awareness of the limits of the family clothing budget.

She can select a jumper frock, the kind that all school girls clamor for, made of long wearing, newly wrinkle resistant cotton or wool corduroy in her favorite gay plaid or solid tone. Red and navy blue serve as excellent basic colors.

As another basic school garment, she can choose one of the newly popular pleated skirts, with pressed or unpressed pleats or a circular skirt. Either are available in easy-to-tend wool fabrics.

Sunny arrives for his first day at school in his new togs. Looking his finest for a new venture.

With the colors of her jumper and skirt to serve as the theme of her wardrobe, she can proceed to build her entire schooltime ensemble. For instance, she can begin with short and long sleeve pullover sweaters with a handy cardigan style added to wear over her other sweaters and over dresses for extra warmth on especially cold winter days. Sweaters in the new nylon weaves offer warmth similar to wool and can be laundered by the Young Miss herself, with little danger of losing their shape. Then she will want one or two

FROM THE FREEPORT SAFETY COUNCIL TO THOSE GOING BACK TO SCHOOL . . . .

During the fall and winter months the early darkness means that we must be especially watchful for children when we are driving our cars.

Youngsters may be returning from school . . . or playing in or near the street . . . or riding their bicycles during the early hours of dusk. And often they don't realize the extra hazards of early darkness. We must watch out for these youngsters of ours.

Please . . . drive carefully.

Test of Vision Most Important

Importance of eye examinations for school children is emphasized by the report of Dr. John B. O'Shea, president of the American Optometric Association, that more than half of all have vision inadequate to school performance.

More than two-thirds of the failures in the lower grades attributed to inadequate reading ability are traceable to visual insufficiency, he says.

Dr. O'Shea urges more comprehensive visual tests in school to discover youngsters who need special attention and planning of classrooms to improve seeing environment.

With reference to the latter, he refers to scientific lighting, pastel paints on walls and ceilings, light floors and also pastel chalk-boards instead of light absorbing black.

"Help a child to see and you help him read; help him read and you help him learn," says the doctor.

Progress made in visual care has been greater in the past 15 years than in all history. Orthoptics, or visual training by which muscles and nerves used in seeing are re-educated, is one of the important advances in correction.

Better Vision

LOOKING FORWARD toward healthier vision is what the school has shown above is doing so intently, to remind parents that the eyes of their school children should be tested before going back to school.

Insure College For Your Child

Policies Are Now Planned To Provide Funds For Education

When children start to school— or go back to it—most parents do some thinking about the future college education they hope and plan for their youngsters.

How can they be sure of it? Will dad's income be enough to meet expenses. What if dad isn't here then?

There are ways of providing for their educational future now. Life insurance can, at an average cost of about $10 a month. Planned savings in the bank or purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds are other ways, but with these there is no insurance.

The family money earner can take out an Educational policy with the child as beneficiary. Often such policies are written for $5,000 to provide basic costs for four years. If the money earner dies before the children are ready for college the full face of the policy is paid in the form of income distributed over the college course.

If the money earner is alive, the cash value of the policy is available as a starter for the college fund. After 10 years this amounts to about $750 on a $5,000 policy.

Endowment policies are considered fine if family needs are covered by other policies, but they are more expensive. Reliable insurance agents stand ready to advise parents on how to insure a college education for their young children.

Drivers Must be on the Alert For The Safety Of Youngsters

With the greatest number of motor vehicles in the history of this community and the nation, now rolling over streets and highways, and with more children going back to school this Fall than ever before, traffic authorities have issued a special plea to drivers to be on the alert for the safety of youngsters.

Though school patrols have done magnificent work in helping to protect children from traffic hazards near schools, this is not enough. Neither is it sound practice on the part of the motorists to depend on a warning horn to keep children from darting thoughtlessly in front of his car.

No matter how well trained the child may be, or how carefully guarded near schools and playgrounds, his preoccupation with play and his immaturity of experience may cause him to stray from the paths of safety without thinking.

It is in the residential areas of the city, and on country roads where children sometimes walk home from schools, that the car or truck driver must be especially alert after schools open for the season.

Thoughtful motor vehicle operators who are conscious of the responsibility of younger school children, and concerned about their welfare, will go farther than the exercise of simple caution in driving.

They will make it a point to see to it that their cars and trucks are in tip-top mechanical condition before schools open for the season.

Common Causes
As everyone knows, tragic accidents have occurred because somebody's car horn didn't work at the crucial moment. Other common accidents result from obscure vision caused by a faulty windshield wiper.

Life and broken limbs are the toll taken by brakes that don't hold when an emergency arises, or by tires which fail to grip the road because treads are worn down.

Traffic authorities urge motorists to have their cars checked, to make sure brakes are working properly, and that tires have safe treads. Time to check windshield wipers is in good weather. With shorter days as the Fall school-season proceeds, lights should be checked also.

With his car conditioned for perfect, split second performance, suggests the AAA, there should be no let up in caution.
Don't Bank on Light
Just because the corner is protected by a traffic light and maybe also by a school safety patrol, is no guarantee that some lads hustling at the edge of the sidewalk won't tumble out into the street; or that some

Power Squadron Maneuvers Postponed

Leather Necks Called To Active Service Due To Conflict in Korea

Col. Bernard S. Barron, USMCR, has informed officers of the Third District of the United States Power Squadrons that the Joint Land-Sea exercises planned for Sept. 9-10 in Long Island Sound and Great South Bay would have to be postponed because the Marine Units scheduled to participate have been called into active service due to the War in Korea. The Third District USPS is commanded by District Commander Rex T. Taylor N and the Power Squadron part of the exercises is being handled by P/C Rollin M. Huyler N.

Boats of the United States Power Squadrons were to pick up Marine Reservists of the First Infantry Battalion, the 19th Infantry Battalion, and the 14th Signal Company at Fort Schuyler and land them at Timber Point to attack a mock enemy force. The exercises were to continue for two days and were planned to show how trained civilian personnel can cooperate with the armed forces in time of emergency.

The first joint exercises of the USPS and the Marine Reserves located in this area took place on the south shore of Long Island in 1936. The experience gained by both the Marine Units and the Power Squadron was considered so valuable that they were held again in 1936, 1938, 1939, and 1940. Just after the completion of the 1940 exercises war was declared in Europe and many of the Marines who had landed at Fire Island from Power Squadron boats were to repeat their performance in grim earnest on the shores of the South Pacific Islands.

Students Know What They Like, And Don't in College Fashions

By R. E. CLEMENTS, JR.

(With an assist from the National Youth Panel)

Back to School business is one of the year's important selling opportunities for the local men's shops. It's getting better each year with the majority of merchants; but it's getting worse for some. They're the fellows who think they can get by on the basis of pushing general merchandise onto the back of a high school, or college student; by loading him up with what the store wants to sell, rather than what the student wants to buy, and by generally treating him as a nice-young-fellow and all that sort of stuff but leave it to us to tell-you-what-to-buy.

It doesn't work for these stores. IT DOES work for those who make it their business not only to know what students want, but what their own customers among the students prefer. That's why the work of the National Youth Panel is watched by the leading retailers, and manufacturers.

The Panel is chosen by selecting typical high school and college students from typical schools throughout the country. It's all fine, to watch what the Ivy students wear; but Harvard, Yale and Princeton don't comprise the country's student body.

Recently, the National Youth Panel worked on a series of questions intended to forecast the fashion trend of the average young man returning to school. Here are some of the interesting likes and dislikes.

THEY LIKE TARTANS

(1) ... because of the brightness, the romantic background, the new touch to styling that gets Tartan garments from the out-dated fashions. They WON'T be sold Tartans from head to foot, but they will buy one or two Tartan items as brighteners for their wardrobe.

THEY WILL WEAR CORDUROY COATS

(2) ... these will be very much in style again this season. In maroon, green, brown, and navy. These coats give good service, and are popular enough to be almost a staple item in any student's wardrobe.

THEY WILL BUY PLAIN COLOR SLACKS

(3) ... Plain color slacks will top the list again and with gabardines heading the list. A few "big-wheels" may go in for Tartan plaid slacks but do not look for any real run on this.

THEY LEAN TOWARD BRAND NAMES

... because, since they are novices in the art of buying, they take it for granted that the brand name manufacturer puts full value into his goods.

THEY ARE PRICE CONSCIOUS

... but, they're not price shy. If they like a new style, they'll buy it even if the price is a little higher than they expected to pay.

75,000,000 Married Persons In U.S. Sets All Time Record, 'Met' Reports

The number of married people in the United States is now at an all-time high of almost 75 million, which is 14 1/2 million more than only 10 years ago, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians.

Somewhat more than two-thirds of the present population at ages 15 and over is married; throughout the 50-year period of 1890-1940 the proportion was about three-fifths.

The increase in the married has been greatest in the younger ages. Among women at ages 20 through 24 the proportion married rose slightly from 47 per cent in 1890 to 51 percent in 1940, and then spurted to about 68 percent in 1949. For women at every age period under 45 the increase has been greater in the past decade than during the entire half century prior to 1940. Even beyond age 45 the proportion of women who are married is now at the highest point in at least sixty years, and the same is true for men at all but the old ages.

"The increase in the married population, results to some extent from the improvement in mortality and the consequent reduction in widowhood," the statisticians explain, "but of much greater importance has been the remarkably high marriage rates of the war and immediate post-war period. In the country as a whole the proportion of adult males who are single has fallen from 35 to 29 percent between 1940 and 1949; among women the corresponding decrease was from 28 to 23 percent."

Off To College

By LAURA JEAN YOUGHT

Just about this time of year, Freeport loses its most eligible men. Of course those who are left home wish them luck, but a year seems an awfully long time.

Colgate is snatching a great number of our men away from us poor girls. (WALTER NESTVOGEL is ogling with CHARLIE STUT for their first year up there. T. GENE SCHULZE and CHARLES JORDAN along with BILL DODD are leaving us for the second time. That big muscle man BOB "FLASH" LANG-DON is returning for the fourth time and BOB "RINSO" WHITE for his third. Many minds will be wandering up to Colgate this winter.

SUNNY HARRISON is leaving our "Fair City" behind for Colby but there's a fair haired little miss waiting for him there.

The MACLEOD boys, HUGH and ALEX, are both going to the University of Vermont, and Cornell is taking JOHN BRADSHAW for the second time along with JIMMY BUCHAN for his first time. What a loss to Freeport.

Hofstra is a God-send for the girls because the boys are still around even though they do go to college. LOU BOLOGNESE, ED

FITZGERALD, BOB BARRETT and JACK PLUNKETT are all starting for the first time. PETE LAMPASONA is going to continue football and studies there this year along with BOB KOBLE. It will be wonderful seeing them this winter.

DAVID EDDY and BILLY LEE are both shuffling off to Davis and Elkins in West Virginia.

AL BALONE is headed back to Kings Point and so is TED LANG and TOM COPLAND.

Fort Schuyler is taking FLOYD "HORSIE" MILLER and CHET EHRMAN from Freeport for their second time.

BOB SCHNEIDER is leaving for MIT for his second time. I've heard he really loves it up there.

GENE SCHAEFFER seems to be quite the wheel up in Lehigh, a basketball champ, etc. DON HUBSCH and JIM GEORGAS along with BILL VAN TUYL are also returning to the smoky city for another year.

JOHN CLEARY is heading off from his old hometown to attend his first year at Yale. We all wish him luck.

Although each and every boy that is leaving will be missed a great deal, we all wish them the best for their years in college. To be able to attend college is a great privilege, and an experience that will mold men out of boys. All those who are given this privilege and experience must be proud to leave Freeport to attend a school of higher learning and take advantage of all the fun and work together.

Good luck always in everything you do, but don't forget old Freeport.

Mix Match Happy

By FRANCES PRATT

Blouses, for the high-schooler vary in fabric almost as much as they do in appearance. All are effectively styled to mix and match with her skirts and jumpers.

Wool jersey, cotton gingham and broadcloth, and nylon are just a few of the long-wearing, easy-to-care fabrics blouses are available in. Revived for high school wear is the long torso line middie blouse that mother used to wear. Carrying over their popularity from last season are cotton shirts styled just like brothers. These can be had in any number of pleasing pastels and tints in plain and the new tartan plaids. (See cut.) A close copy of what her college sister will wear is the wool jersey shirt with the three quarter length sleeves and diminutive collar detailing.

Blouse styles that go equally well in class and at the after-football games—dresses are the cotton and nylon types.

Education, Our Greatest Weapon

By ED COTI

Senior on Staff of the "Nexus" year book of Baldwin High School

Ordinarily in a "Back-to-School" edition of a newspaper one does not discuss such a serious matter as Communism in an editorial. But in view of our "police action" in Korea and the wonderful job Jacob Malik is doing gumming up the works in the Security Council we should stop to think, as we go back to school, that education is our greatest weapon against Communism and our greatest supporting factor in the democratic setup of our nation.

Communism should be a great concern to the modern generation because they will be the leaders of the world powers in years to come. It's up to them whether or not we have a communistic world.

It is the firm belief of this paper that to be a Communist in a democratic nation one must be either an idiot who can't see the facts before his face or otherwise money, the great evil-doer, has entered into the picture in some way. Take that implication the way you will.

In the Social Studies classes of the U. S. facts are brought out as facts and not propaganda. We first learn the true Communist principles as they were put forth by Karl Marx in his famous "Communist Manifesto" and then learn how Lenin and Trotsky interpreted them. Then as normal class procedure these principles are put to discussion, free and open debate, which would probably be labeled "Treason" in Russia.

Free education, free of cost and untainted by propaganda, is only possible in a democracy. An informed people are a united people. Unity has been the beacon light of our independence since the Revolutionary War.

The Editor's Notebook

The Leader is proud to present in full the above editorial written by Ed Codi. Ed is a senior at Baldwin High and is typical of the many fine young men students in our local schools.

If one thing has proven itself above all else in getting together this issue of THE LEADER—Going Back To School Issue—it is the sincerity and ability of our youth. Don't ever sell these "kids" short . . . they are "terrific" . . . the many articles written by them in this issue show a keenness and intelligence far beyond what we have been led to expect . . . we take our hats off to them.

Next week THE LEADER will publish another Back To School Edition. So much material has been prepared by the local students, and all of it is so very good, that it will take at least these two editions to cover the field . . .

Kindergarten Interview

By MARY PENTECOST

"School? Naw, I'm not scared. My big brother says the girls are nice." The youngster, with the rare name of Joe shifted from foot to foot and grinned as an impish look danced into a pair of bright brown eyes. He would not admit to having a last name. He seemed, for some reason, more mature than the normal five-year-old.

Dragged bodily from a ballgame, Joe clutched a worn-looking baseball in one hand. A glove, three times as big as his hand lay draped across the other arm.

Although his shirt told of his loyalty to Hopalong Cassidy, Joe's "gonna be a fireman if I can't ride with Hoppy and Lucky on the Bar-20."

A slight disagreement ensued when Joe professed a liking for the Yankees. A buddy, George, remarked the Philadelphia Phillies were better. Of course, it mattered not that the respective teams were in different leagues. It boiled down to the fact that Joe liked the Yanks because they had Joe DiMaggio, and George liked the "Whiz Kids" because his Dad did.

The tow-headed George enjoyed the prospect of school in a few weeks. "In kindergarten, you can play on the slides and the Jungle Jim." He also clutched a major league glove in his hand.

George was anxious to get back to his interrupted game. For, as he put it, "didn't you have to practice to be a pitcher?"

School of Politics

By WAYNE MARSHALL

After attending a very enjoyable week at Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., as a member of the New York Republican State Committee's School of Politics, I am honored now to tell you about it.

The school brought together 210 boys and girls averaging twenty years old, and representing each of New York's sixty-two counties and a half dozen other states as well. Most of the students at Hamilton, who heard from more than fifty party chiefs, public officials, and newspaper men during the week, were selected by local party leaders from traditionally Republican families.

Some of the older and brighter students than I got into lively debate during the discussion sessions after the speeches.

Most all the speakers spoke on how the party needs young ideas and new blood to regain its losing trend in the nation. They also spoke on how we could best break into politics, the schools we heard was to go and see our local leader for doorbell ringing duty. Of all the speakers, I guess Governor Thomas E. Dewey was the one person to whom everyone listened. He spoke on the "Roosevelt situation" and his thoughts and answers were exact. When Dewey was finished speaking, we all gathered outside the chapel, our meeting place, and many of us had our pictures taken with him.

Our young leader, Alexander Lankler, told us at the outset of the school that nobody would tell us what to think, because that was their object, to make us think for ourselves.

But there were many diversions, too. Besides the bathing beauty contest, there were swimming races, tennis, golf, volleyball, and many other sports. A square dance, a picnic supper, the technicolor motion pictures of the Lowell Thomas expedition to Tibet, with commentary by Lowell Thomas, Jr., a hayride on tractor drawn rigs, and a midnight pajama party for the girls.

I know that everybody had as grand a time as I had, and I'm very grateful to have had the opportunity to go to this School of Politics.

Barbara Metcalfe Bride

Of Richard Gaylord Hill

The Rev. David G. Jaxheimer officiated at the wedding of Miss Barbara Metcalfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Metcalfe, 157 California ave., to Richard Gaylord Hill, of Levittown, son of Henry C. Hill, of White Plains, N. Y., Saturday. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The maid of honor was Miss Joan Gandorf, of Baldwin, while Mrs. William Metcalfe, of Levittown, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Marilyn Shell, of Baldwin, were bridesmaids. William Metcalfe officiated as best man while the ushers were William Cadwalder, of Valley Stream, and Robert Landers, of East Rockaway. There was a reception for 70 at the South Shore Yacht Club. The couple will live in Levittown following a wedding trip.

SAFETY

By LAURA JEAN VOUGHT

In this age of hustle and bustle and mechanical devices, safety should be the most important word in our vocabulary. At home and at school safety must be stressed above all to protect our future America.

At home parents should teach their off-spring addresses and telephone numbers and to impress them that the police are their friends and are there to help in the event of getting lost. Principal dangers to small children are matches, sharp knives and scissors, hot stoves, boiling water, electric toasters and above all inanimate objects in their mouths. All these things must be impressed on little children to keep them safe and happy.

When children become of school age, they should be taught to cross streets carefully. In playgrounds and in classrooms teachers instruct the students not to throw hard balls, sticks and stones, and to respect others at play. Safety, if practiced constantly, becomes a second nature and makes your whole life happier.

In Freeport High School, students receive expert drivers education from William Ashley that helps to improve teenager's standards of driving. In this way, we are taught the most important phase of safety and the phase that effects us the most. So far Freeport teenagers seem to have been wise enough not to indulge in the hot rod fad as in some of our neighboring villages. Hot Rods are a menace and a danger to the highways and lead to the frightening word, teenicide.

For a while, teenicide has been a foreign word that everyone knew but never thought much about. Teenicide was a joke among the younger set until it struck home. We all said, "It will never happen to me" but I know teenicide does strike everyone with no exceptions. For one night of reckless driving a young girl might lose her pretty face. For one night of careless driving a teenage boy might lose his chances for a good future including a college education. Caution, a brother word to safety, if practiced, could prevent even the thought of a dreaded accident. If every boy and girl driving thought for one minute of the horror that they might experience, they would practice safety and caution throughout their lives. Teenicide can not be stressed too much and discussed too thoroughly to prevent accidents. By just driving carefully with a good mental attitude toward other users of the highway, the word safety will be triumphant over teenicide.

Safety affects everyone, young and old. However, if each of us practiced it a little more instead of just thinking "I have to save a minute," or "I have to hurry" we could all escape those mishaps that are caused by carelessness.

THE TOWN'S TEENS

By FRANCES PRATT

As soon as school closes and the summer officially begins Freeport High School takes over Jones Beach. This year a large number of F. H. S. students and graduates worked at the beach. Freeport seemed to be well represented at all the beachhouses, parking fields and concession stands. Ex-Freeport students could be found on the Life Guard stands. Of course, any day the beach in front of the West Bathhouse looked like a miniature Freeport.

Congratulations to Gay Crouse of the recent graduating class who was married last winter, Kay Pease, another of this year's graduates, who was married in early July made a lovely bride. Joan Mason, a '49 grad changed her name to Mrs. Ullan. Best wishes to Grace Olsen and Muriel Gilbert who recently announced their engagements.

Did you happen to see— Jay Schindels, F. H. S.'s ace pitcher, on Happy Felton's Knot Hole Gang?

Richard Mayer, this year's Valuedictorian with the highest average in twelve years, clerking in Chubbuck's while waiting to enter Cornell?

Jim Magidson, the salutatorian, plans to follow family tradition and enter Yale.

Wayne Marshall has just returned from a week's stay as representative of the Freeport Republican Club at a Meeting of the School of Politics at Hamilton University.

Bob Greene and Jerry Simandi have just returned from an eight week tour of the United States.

Lynne Waugh, who recently moved to Freeport from Forest Hills is vacationing in sunny California.

Did you know that the window decorations for Froek and Bonnet in Hempstead were designed by F. H. S. Junior, Roger Sammis?

The new store on Main Street, next to Siegel's Paint Store is a new music store with a complete line of all the latest records, the favorites of the Town's Teens including those of Billy Eckstein, George Shearing and Doris Day.

The Hop Fans will have lower Main Street jumpin' with live as soon as they discover The House of Music.

With school starting lets take a moment to wish everyone the best in the next year, especially the new Seventh Grade students, the Class of '51, and the members of the Class of '50 who will enter college this fall. A large number of the Class are going to college. Just to mention a few: Ed O'Malley is going to Union, Collette Ballot to Ohio Wesleyan, Tom Sutton, Harvey Schneider, Virginia Carpenter, Carl Simone, Jacqueline Ehret and Mel Lawson plan to enter Hofstra. Shirley Lenker is going to study physical ed. at Cortland. Son Swisher has been accepted at M. I. T. while Jim Malakoff plans to study at Rensselaer Poly. Bob Malzevsky is going to join the Freeport contingent at Cornell. Diane Jordan, Carmen Chimeri, and Robert Miller are going to Adelphi.

The Best of Luck To All Of You! Well, that's it for this issue. See you next week.

Red Cross First Aiders

To Demonstrate at Fair

Fifty first aiders of the Nassau Red Cross will stage a continuous demonstration during all the hours that the Mineola Fair is open starting on Sept. 12. A Sidney Hancock, ARC First Aid chairman for the county, announced today.

The exhibit will serve as a safeguard for all the scores of thousands visiting the annual fair, as it will be a first aid emergency situation, fully equipped to care for any injuries or sudden illnesses, he said.

Last year, a corps of 40 especially-trained Nassau men and women manned the ARC first aid station, serving a total of nearly 850 hours during the fair and treating 286 persons for everything from scratches and insect bites to heart attacks and broken bones. There is no charge for such ARC first aid treatment.

Under the direction of Henry Hartmann, director of ARC safety services, the Nassau Red Cross Chapter will set up a first aid tent with full facilities to care for injured or stricken patrons of the fair and an auto and trailer furnished as a mobile dressing station will be stationed at the fairgrounds.

REV. AND MRS. R. G. HARRIS LEAVE FOR THEIR VACATION.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. G. Harris of the Second Baptist Church, left yesterday on a two weeks' vacation. During their absence the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. John C. Robinson of Philadelphia. The pastor and his wife expressed their gratefulness to the officers and members of the Church for the preparations they made for their vacation and for the purse presented them.

Outdoor motion pictures are to be shown each Wednesday night for the benefit of the Youth Center.

Adult Education

The Adult Education program in Freeport provides an excellent opportunity for advancement in many fields. Besides instruction in academic studies, the program offers courses similar to those given in trade schools. The program is sponsored by the Freeport Board of Education and its director is Mr. Clarence Jenner.

Registration for the Fall Term will take place between 8 P.M. and 10 P.M. on September 14, and for the winter term, January 18, 1951 in room 8 at the Freeport High School. There is no registration fee. The courses are open to adult members of Freeport and surrounding communities. The subjects taught will depend on local demand. If a sufficient number of people request a certain course, it is usually added to the curriculum.

This fall there will be such academic subjects as English, American and World History, Biology, Chemistry, Elementary Algebra and Plane Geometry if there is enough registration to fill these classes.

Other branches of study will include courses in Accounting, Business Law, which takes in wills, contracts, etc., Typing and Gregg Shorthand. The Dramatics course is a Little Theatre group known as the "Curtain Callers." Besides putting on several shows each year, they provide opportunity to learn about directing, settings, lighting and all the interesting work that goes on backstage.

There is opportunity for immigrants in this country to learn the English language and the fundamentals of reading, arithmetic and American Citizenship in the Foundation Education and Citizenship classes. Individual help and special attention is given to those who desire it.

For those who have a special hobby, there is instruction in Photography, Ceramics, Paperhanging and Painting, Wood and Metal Shop, and Drawing. The sewing classes offer training in Upholstery and Millinery. There are several choral groups, one of which the "St. Margaret Singers" provides entertainment for hospitals. Anyone who plays an instrument is invited to join the Band or Orchestra in the Grave Street Auditorium.

If you like to read, there are groups which meet in the Memorial Library to discuss recent books. Occasionally, some prominent authors lecture at these informal meetings.

For boat enthusiasts, there is a Power Squadron course which takes in everything of interest to a small boat owner on the South Shore. This includes Elementary and Advanced Piloting, Junior and Senior Navigation, Small boat handling, Weather, Seamanship and Marine Engines.

Conventional French and Spanish are taught to help in the travel and business. Automotive Theory and Electronics, along with Physical Education for men and women complete this diversified schedule of Adult Education.

What Is Education?

It is growth - physical, spiritual, mental, moral.
It is not only preparation for life.
It is life itself.
It is living and getting along with other children and adults.
It is learning respect for constituted authority.
It is learning self discipline.
It is planning tasks and seeing them through despite obstacles.
It is learning the "3 R's," Reading Writing, and Arithmetic.
It is learning to think independently and critically.
It is preparation for an occupation.
It is becoming familiar with the cultural heritage of our country.
It is becoming capable members of society—economically, socially, politically.
It is learning to appreciate art, science, music, literature.
It is learning the best that has been taught, said, and done through the ages.
It is acquiring sound health habits.
It is learning spiritual values.
It is learning to appreciate the dignity of the individual, the brotherhood of man, and the Fatherhood of God.
It is learning the "3 C's," character, culture, and citizenship.
It is learning to love, honor, and defend the United States of America.

GOOD-BYE SUMMER

By MARILYN FISCHBEIN

As this vacation period nears its end, one cannot help but reminisce. Moments return—moments of rapture, delight, and romance. Listless nights under the stars, the white foamy waters lapping the shores, the mountains towering in their resplendent glory, and may other beautiful scenes unsurpassed by Nature refill our hearts. Summer romances and friendships, slowly becoming treasurers of the past, help to compose our chest of cherished memories. Fun at Jones Beach, enjoyed by many of us will be relived time and again. Some, who were fortunate enough to spend their vacation other than at home, have exciting and unusual moments to remember.

But not all have had a leisurely summer. Many have worked either to occupy themselves or to obtain money for various purposes. Nevertheless, almost all have had some enjoyable times, for, "All work and no play makes Johnny a dull boy."

All good things must end, for although we mortals have learned to master the impossible, we cannot govern time. We are filled with deep remorse, but, nevertheless, are prepared to say good-bye. "Good-bye Summer. You were great."

FORWARD TO FALL

By MARILYN FISCHBEIN

With the summer almost ended, we turn our eyes forward. We have hopes and ideals to be fulfilled, knowledge and enjoyment to be gained. We have a school year and a world year to be dealt with.

The thought of school is not as frightening as some think. Although we must work, and work hard, we must remember that it is only for ourselves. Friendships, which have remained dormant during the summer, will be renewed. New friends will be acquired. Football, band and clubs will fill our happy moments. Both old and new teachers will be on hand to greet us.

Not every face we expect to see will be there, nor will every face be a happy one. With the world in such a tumult and the horrible war in Korea, several of our schoolmates have enlisted in the armed forces. The unhappy faces will belong to those who have lost relatives or friends in this disaster.

We must all pray that there will soon be world peace, so that we, the future peacemakers of the world, can fulfill our ideals. We must look forward to a happier and healthier fall, a fall which will bring a wonderful school year and a better, purer world.

Red Flannel First For Nightie Choice

Warmth in color and warmth in fabric is the school girl's unanimous choice for study or sleep wear.

Specifically, bright red flannel comes first, styled like Granddad's nightshirt with long sleeves and a nightgown collar. Next, in study or bedtime preference, are brightly hued cotton knit pajamas with matching or contrasting long sleeves and T-shirt tops. Also in great demand are one-piece overall sleep suits, accented with drop seats.

HEAD HUGGING HATS

Small, head-hugging, untrimmed bonnets, cloches and helmets are Miss School Girl's favorite hat styles. For day-to-day school wear, she prefers them in a bright, cheery red of warm, lasting corduroy or wool knit. Date time usually finds her in demure black velvet with a tiny veil added for a note of glam-T-shirt tops. Also in great demand

On 'Back to School' Issue Staff

Voyageur Staff

By DOLORES KARMIN

Each year the graduating class of Freeport High School publishes its yearbook "The Voyageur." The production of every edition of this annual is a satisfying adventure spread out over several months.

This year's faculty adviser will be Mrs. Albert, an English teacher. The staff met several times in June and elected as officers: Dolores Karmin is Editor-in-Chief, assisted by Carol Munkelt. Ann Di Gesu is Art Editor, Nancy Collins and Barry Hart are Club Editors and Joyce Day is Format Editor. Marilyn Fischbein is Class Editor. Carol Clarke and Dave Winter will cover Sports and Natalie Hochman is the typist.

As soon as school resumes, this group of seniors will be very busy looking up various kinds of information: football scores, band activities and all the "things that make the school go round." Pictures will be taken in October and the layout of the book will be planned. Then the stories will be written and the final layout completed as the book will go to press in the spring. Then, and only then, can the weary staff sit back and hope that their ideas and hard work have gone to make a book that each student will be proud to own.

Golden Wave Story

By SUSAN HARTMANN

Five years ago under English teacher Arthur W. Lynip the first Baldwin GOLDEN WAVE was put to rest. In those five years not only did Baldwin High change but, also did that tiny newspaper. Last year under the supervision of Mrs. Alice Prendergast a journalism class was organized. The students enrolled were the main bulwark of the sheet: the editors, the business staff, the main reporters.

To help the "green" staff function, the editor of the year before, Jane Barber, who at that time was NEXUS editor, took time from her duties to help. Don-David Luster-mann, who had worked under Jane became the Editor-in-Chief for the first issue of the paper. Little-by-little the WAVE took shape, into a sheet. The "green" staff became more experienced and shortly after, one took over the position of Editor-in-Chief.

The journalism course went into the mechanics of the newspaper. Part of the studies included reports about the different positions on the staff of New York papers and even included a trip to the Journal American.

The aim of last year's staff was to put out the "best-looking" sheet in the high school class. With the help of Photographer Dave La Roque, the GOLDEN WAVE's front page, in the opinion of the staff and writers, looked better and more "classy."

This year the WAVE's staff will also be made up of new students but at the head of the group will be Sue Hartmann and Mary Pentecost. Mary and Sue, who are both on the NEXUS staff for this year have taken it upon themselves to edit the WAVE and start the new staff on its way.

Freeport School Library

By DOLORES KARMIN

The Freeport High School Library is a compact unit of nearly 6,000 books. These books which include classics, sport stories, romantic novels, poems and plays are available to every student from the 7th through the 12th grades.

For several years the books have been in the care of the School Librarian, Miss Olive Swan. Under her direction, a group of about twenty-five girls have an opportunity to manage the Library themselves during the year. Each member of this Library Club takes charge of "the Library" and its operation several periods a week. This year, meetings will be conducted throughout the year under the direction of the President, Barbara Sanders.

At all meetings dues are collected and this money is used to hold a banquet in the Elks' Club for the installation of new members each Spring. Each Library Club member is glad of this experience of handling books and is happy to help any student choose a book. It's her job to know how and where the books are classified and located just as much as checking out books or collecting fines.

PREVIEW
By ELEANOR KRAUSE
"ANNIE GET YOUR GUN"
This delightful picture now showing at the Freeport Century theatre is a very colorful, exciting picture, featuring Betty Hutton as Annie Oakley, with Louis Calhern, Howard Keel, and J. Carroll Nash in supporting roles. This musical was directed by George Sidney.
"Annie Get Your Gun" portrays the story of Annie Oakley, the crack woman sharpshooter who was the star of the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show. Frank Butler, a professional, came to town and offered to shoot against anyone for $100 a side. Annie took him up on it, won the match and married him six months later.
The Wild West sequences are presented on a lavish scale, and the Rodgers and Hammerstein music and songs by Irving Berlin are well done.
Occasional ribaldry of the original stage show has been toned down for family audiences, but no one can complain that the results are not spirited and engaging. I found it suitable entertainment for the entire family.

Baldwin High School Drum Majorette

CLAIRE KIEFFER

Freeport H. S. Twirlers

By KATHRYN MYERS
Included in this fall's line-up of the Marching Band are a drum majorette, five regular twirlers, and four substitutes.
Our blond haired and blue eyed drum majorette is Cornelia Pennema, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ruud Pennema of 26 Harris Ave. Along with being very talented with a baton this pretty miss is also a member of the National Honor Society, a privilege granted only to students with outstanding scholastic averages.
Last year's majorette, Diane Jordan, is going to be the drum majorette of the Adelphi College Band in Garden City.
The five regular twirlers for this year are Dorothy Devenshire, Janet Tieman, Jean Edwards, Jane Yarow, and Marjorie Chandler. The substitutes are Carla Doane, Marjorie Judge, Connie Hanna, and Kath Meyer.
All of the twirlers parade with the band to all games, etc., and also travel with the band to out of town affairs.
Boys from Freeport and distant points are getting their entries ready to compete for the annual soapbox derby to be sponsored by William Clinton Story Post, A. L., and Jake Kedenburg preceding the midget races at the Municipal Stadium, Labor Day, Monday afternoon, Sept. 4. Frederick Batcher, third vice-commander of the Legion is in charge of the arrangements. Other Legionnaires are soliciting prizes and as in previous years there will be some award for every boy who enters and his pusher.
Because of experiences in previous years, Mr. Batcher said it would be necessary for prospective competitors to obtain the written consent of their parents before submitting their entries. Entries may be filed early at the Legion Dug-out or the Stadium.
The Jole Chitwood Thrill Show will make a return visit to the Freeport Stadium Wednesday and Thursday nights, for the benefit of the Legion of which Kedenburg is a past commander.

Cheerleading By ANN DIGESU

As fall rolls around again, the usual crowd of eager girls will be on hand to try for the coveted position of a cheerleader. Cheerleading is certainly an exciting and fun. However many people do not realize the work behind it. A cheerleader must give up at least two afternoons a week for a grueling workout practicing cheers for perfection. As a group and individually, she must memorize about thirty cheers and learn to recognize them the minute they are called.
During the football season, the cheerleader might look very pretty in her short skirt and wool sweater but she usually freezes in this skimpy costume. On the other hand, during pep yelling for a basketball game, she is often left hot and sweaty, yet expected to wear a bright smile and be as peppy as a five year old.
The main job of these pep callers is to induce the crowd to cheer the players on and to raise their morale. Thus, the girl must have the school spirit in her and the willingness to work. To the girl who has these qualities and truly wishes to be a good cheerleader—Loads of luck. You'll love it!

Band Year Round Activity By JOHNNY HERBERT

Another summer passing, another fall approaching, and the stage is already set in anticipation of the coming band activity. However, many believe that with the closing of school in June all band activity ceases, but that is not the case. H. S. auditorium any weekday morning during the summer; be assured you'll find many potential musicians practicing under the capable leadership of Mr. Frederick Stelmach, a well known teacher of woodwinds in Freeport High School. Harmony, Theory and Conducting classes are being supervised by Dr. J. Maynard Wetlaufer (our Senior Band Director).
In addition to other activities our summer school band, along with the elementary summer band, under the direction of Mr. Robert T. Tavis, performed in the St. Rocco Festival Parade as has been done in past years.
With the coming of fall we are again looking forward to the reorganization of the Freeport High School Band. Under the able direction of Dr. Wetlaufer we will soon be practicing our formations for this year. The know how of these formations is found in Dr. Wetlaufer's book, "Building a Showband."
The band has been invited to appear at Yankee Stadium, the Mirror Air Show and the Babylon Tulp Festival.
In the concert band Department we are scheduled to play at the "National Educators' Association" meeting and also to exchange assemblies with the Manhattan H. S. Choir. Other planned appearances include the Jones Beach Concert, and the usual Sunday Afternoon Concerts plus the "Spring Concert."
This year we are hoping to continue the fine reputation which has been a tradition of F. H. S. Bands for many years.

The Dance Committee By FRANCES PRATT

One of the more important organizations in Freeport High School is the G. O. Dance Committee. This committee, under the direction of Miss Vivian Bird of the Social Studies Department, not only plans the dances, but provides for the music and entertainment, as well as performing the task of decorating. Every Saturday morning before a dance, a large group of ambitious students can be found turning the Gym into a virtual fairland.
The chairman of the Dance Committee, who heads the group and appoints the various sub-committees; the Publicity Committee, the Decorating Committee, the Song Committee, and the Board Committee.
This year the Committee is planning several dances which it hopes will be great successes.
